

TalkTMR Automatically Captures Cell Phone Records to Increase Billable Time

Professionals that bill time to clients often find that while the use of cell phones has greatly improved their responsiveness that it's often difficult to track time spent with clients resulting in lost revenue and high administrative costs. Industry journals report that professionals often lose $3,000 or more per month in client billings by failing to capture time spent on cell phone calls.

TalkTMR installs in minutes and works with any Blackberry, Windows Mobile, or Palm cell phone and automatically captures call detail records and makes them immediately available.

It includes an auto-learn function that allows it to automatically suggest billing codes and round to the next 1/10th of an hour. With 1 click, you can accept the suggestion right on your cell phone or you can adjust it and/or add notes about the call.

Frequently Asked Questions

PROXIMITI®

How does TalkTIMR Know About Our Users, Contacts And Cases/Matters?

It is really pretty simple: You input them into TalkTIMR or, if you use software from one of our legal software partners, specify that your information be automatically extracted and updated in TalkTIMR without requiring any manual intervention at all.

How Can I Manage My Calls to Make Sure I Get The Results I Want?

You can manage your call histories quickly and easily with TalkTIMR. You can do so at any time by accessing the TalkTIMR portal. The portal contains a powerful analysis tool that will allow you to view any set of calls and sort or group them in any sequence you desire. You may update or delete call records singly or even select a group of calls and apply settings to all of them.

What If I Forget?

We know people are busy and administrative matters often fall by the wayside due to the press of business, so we provide options to automatically send reports to your email address. The reports can be daily, weekly or monthly.

How Do I Get The Calls Into the Billing System?

The most automated solutions are for those software companies supported directly by TalkTIMR. Other billing programs allow for file imports, most typically using the .csv file format. Proximiti TalkTIMR includes a .csv export option. As a final option, billable calls can be summarized in a report to facilitate manual data entry.

Is TalkTIMR Secure?

Yes. The model Proximiti utilizes is largely the same as that deployed by RIM for Blackberry users of corporate e-mail. All communication links are encrypted and all data access is password controlled. The physical security in our data center far exceeds the physical security available in most legal offices. Finally, Proximiti has a stringent Confidentiality and Usage Agreement that applies for each subscriber.

How Do I Find Out If My Legal Software Is A TalkTIMR Partner And What Do I Do If It Isn't?

When you visit our online quotation and ordering web site, we will ask you about your current software, tell you if it is supported and describe your integration options in your custom quote. If your software is supported, great!. If not, remember TalkTIMR works perfectly well on a standalone basis. Also, we plan to support numerous packages by the end of 2008 and we will give priority to integrating with software used by our customers.
